HOMECOMING '76

WELCOME ALUMNI

Today's Game

Northern Colorado is the Tiger's homecoming foe today in a non-league game in which FHS will try to improve its 3-2 overall mark.

The Tigers will be paced by Central States Conference's leading passer Skip Numrich, who has completed 61 of 116 aeriels for 855 yards and 10 touchdowns. Numrich's favorite target is league leading receiver, junior Dave Meter, who has hauled in 23 passes for 396 yards, for a per catch average of 17.2 yards, and five touchdowns. The league's second leading rusher, Tom Doll, a sophomore, has 99 carries for 584 yards and a 113.2 yard per game average. Doll is a questionable starter today due to a foot injury.

But the Tigers will have their hands full if common opponent records mean anything, because Northern Colorado downed Southern Colorado 38-7 last weekend. FHS was edged by USC 31-21.

Chuck Taibi, the Bears' leading rusher, will bring his 58.8 yards per game average into the contest. Taibi has carried the ball 55 times for 235 yards and three touchdowns. Quarterback Russ Boone, who has been injured, likes to keep the ball on the ground most of the time as he has attempted just 67 passes with 21 completions for 312 yards, two touchdowns and five interceptions. Bone's backup, Bill Kenney has connected on eight of 13 passes for 90 yards all in last weeks game.

When the two go to the air they are most likely to be looking for Rich Marquez, a flanker, who has caught 14 passes for 227 yards and one touchdown.

The loss of Tiger junior defensive cornerback Blond Farmer could present a problem for FHS. Farmer suffered a broken collar bone last week against Missouri Western College. He will miss the remainder of the season.

Kent Griffin, a senior, should help pick up the slack left from the injury to Farmer since Griffin, also a defensive back, leads the team in tackles with 46. Robert Douglas, a junior cornerback, leads the team in interceptions with two. Dave Thom, a senior, is the Tigers' second leading defender with 45 tackles.

The Bears in four games have a 165.3-yard average on the ground compared to the Tigers, who have a 197.2 average. FHS also dominates in the passing game with a 171.1-yard average while UNC has a 119.8 yards per outing.

Defensively, the Bears give up just 77.5 yards per game against the rush and only 127.5 yards through the air. FHS has allowed its opponents 216.4 yards rushing and 188.0 yards passing per game.

UNC may even be better this year as it comes into Saturday's game with a 3-1 record after demolishing archrival University of Southern Colorado last week.

After the win over MWC, the Tigers still share the top spot in the CSC with Washburn University as both teams have 3-0 records. The Bengals need only one more victory in any of their last four games to surpass last season's total of three.

The Bears defeated the Tigers last year 38-17 and lead in the series 11-1 with one tie. FHS's only win over the Bears was a 34-0 victory in 1966, when the Tigers finished with a 7-2 mark and were conference co-champions.

David Stalls

A Look Ahead

Rival Kansas State College of Pittsburg will be the next Tiger foe Oct. 23 in Pittsburg as the FHS hopes to boost its league mark to 4-0.

The Gorrillas are a top defensive team under the direction of first-year coach Ron Rundelman. However, the Gorrillas are not scoring many points and consequently are 1-1 in conference play and 1-2-1 overall. The Tigers defeated Pittsburg in the Homecoming game last year, 19-13.

This year Pittsburg was defeated by N.W. Missouri State 24-0, Wahsburn University 28-16. They knocked off S.W. Missouri State 10-6 and tied the University of Missouri Rolla 7-7. In the series with FHS, the Gorillas lead 25-15-7.

After Pittsburg, the Tiger's last home game will be Oct. 30 against Washburn University in a contest that could very well determine the Central States Conference title.

Washburn is also undefeated in conference play with a 2-0 mark and is 4-0 overall, mainly due to a stingey defense which allows an average of just 92 yards in the air and 83 on the ground per game.

Washburn leads in the series with FHS 27-11-2, which includes a 27-8 win over the Tigers last year.

Welcome Students Alumni Friends

Dr. G.W. Tomanek

Dear Alumni, Students, and Friends of the College:

Homecoming is a special occasion in all types of educational institutions. We have looked forward with much pleasure and pride to these Homecoming days at Fort Hays State. We thoroughly enjoy the opportunity to welcome back alumni from all parts of the country.

We are extremely interested in building a yet stronger alumni organization because we know that the potential exists for an organization that would be helpful to the College. We are extremely proud of the achievements of our alumni, and I feel that they are proud of having been associated with Fort Hays State.

Our ties with Hays and the immediate area have been strengthened the last four years through our popular Oktoberfest at Homecoming time. This has been a wonderful addition to the festivities, and I hope that more and more of our alums from other places will come early and enjoy the Oktoberfest activities with us in future years.

We always hope for a football victory on Homecoming, and this year is no exception. One thing we can promise is that our team will give its very best effort. We have an excellent football team.

We hope that you have had a fine Homecoming so far and that it is culminated with a resounding win by the Tigers. Come back next year and bring another alum with you. Please drop in to see me when you are on campus.

Welcome To Tiger Football

Welcome FHS Alumni:

We are happy you could make it back for the 1976 Homecoming festivities and we hope you have had time to take part in all the activities.

We, in the Athletic Department, welcome all alumni back to the campus and we especially want to recognize the many former Tiger lettermen who returned today. We look forward to visiting with these K-men at our dinner following the game.

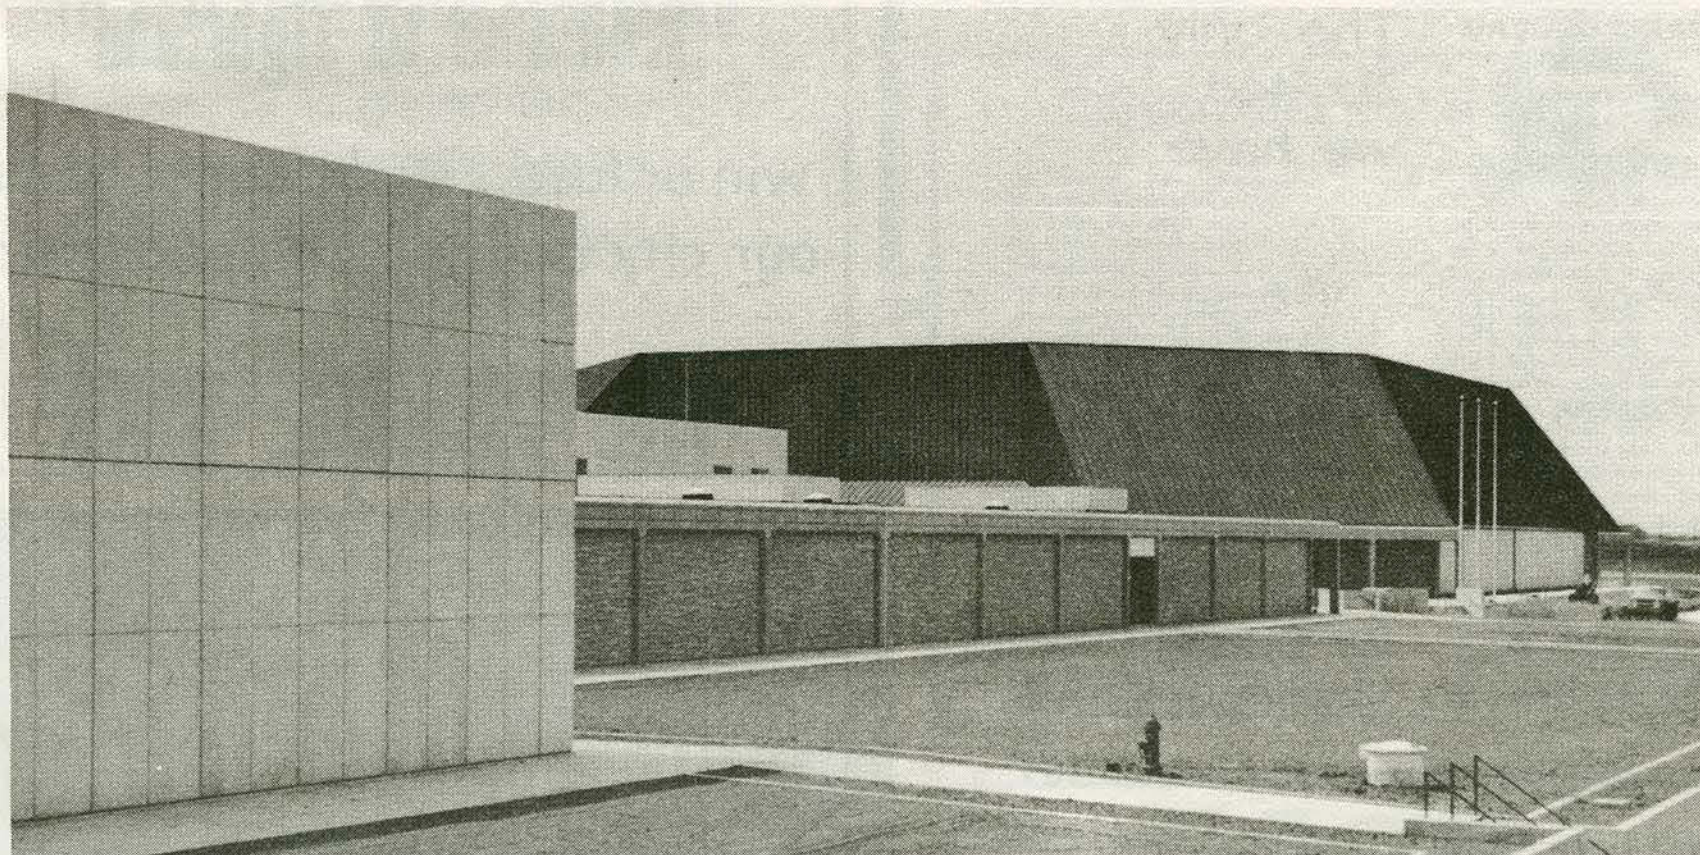

I also want to take this opportunity to thank all the alumni, lettermen and friends of FHS who have contributed this fall to our athletic scholarship fund. Without the financial support of these individuals, we would not be able to function.

So far we are fortunate that no sports have been cut from our men's athletic program. With the continued assistance of our scholarship contributors, we hope to maintain our nine-sport men's athletic program. Because of rising costs, we were forced to raise more money than ever this year. We are continually searching for more funds to support athletic scholarships.

Again, we want to thank everyone who has helped our athletic scholarship program and we hope you return often to FHS.

1966 Football Team

"Fort Hays State's Tiger football squad closed out its season by winning a share of the CIC football crown with a tremendous second half effort as they defeated Omaha University, 19-0, at Omaha Saturday."

That was the opening paragraph in a story Oct. 13, 1966 after the Tigers had downed Omaha to claim co-championship honors with Kansas State College-Pittsburg. In addition, FHS had posted a 7-2 overall record, the best mark for a Tiger Football team since 1954 when they compiled an identical record.

Under the direction of Head Coach Wayne McConnell, who is now FHS's director of intramurals, the Tigers recorded a 3-1 conference mark and virtually rewrote the record books.

The championship team either broke or tied 22 FHS football records, including seven team marks and 15 in the individual category. Senior quarterback Bob Johnson rewrote 13 records while junior fullback Rich Dreiling was responsible for two new marks.

In addition to his records, Johnson was named to the Associated Press small college All-America football team and received NAIA All-America recognition. He was also all-CIC and NAIA All-District 10 performer.

Johnson was joined on the District 10 team by Dreiling and seniors Larry Noffsinger and Bernie Blevins. These four, along with senior Ron Tuley, were also members of the all-conference squad. All five players will be present at tonight's K-Club Post-Game Huddle set for 5:30 in the Black and Gold Room of the Memorial Union.

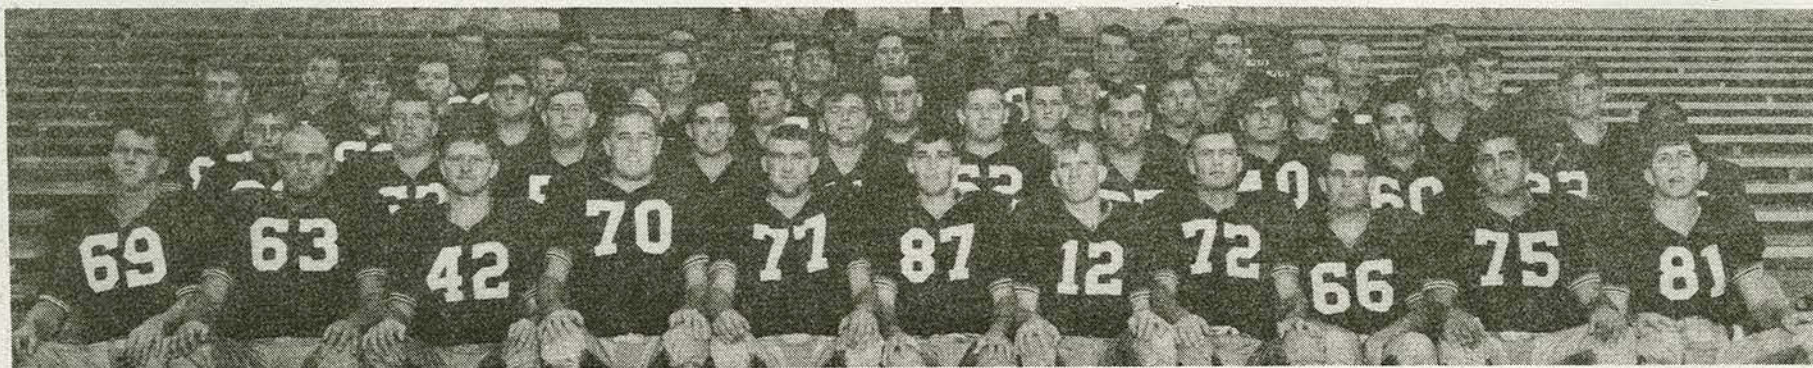

Bud Estes, who will also attend the huddle, was named to the all-league second team as a junior. He was joined on the second unit by junior Charley Myers and senior Bobby Gregg.

Johnson is currently an insurance salesman in Sedalia, Mo.; Dreiling is involved in insurance and real estate in Wichita; Noffsinger is an insurance salesman in Dodge City; Blevins is a seafood salesman in Huntington Beach, Calif.; Tuley is a coach at Troy; and Estes is engaged in farming at Bucklin.

Other members of the 1966 team who have sent reservations for the K-Club gathering include (names, current addresses, occupations): Tom Beatty, Luray, Kansas Department of Transportation; Ken Caywood, Smith Center, coach; Terry Claycamp, Hays, training dogs; Jim Erickson, Scandia; Dennis Hague, Cedar point, farmer; Larry Ollek, Hays, sales manager; Dick Palmer, Wichita, coach; Jim Powell, Hays, manager of Allied Inc.; Randy Randle, Cunningham, coach; Steve Seirer, Montezuma,

FHS Self-Examination

When yours is one of only two four-year institutions of higher learning the western half of the state and is the "only" state-assisted institution, the future is secure and there are few problems. Right?

"Not so," says Gerald W. Tomanek, President of Fort Hays Kansas State College. "Granted, ours is a fine and strong institution, maybe with fewer problems than other comparable colleges. But we're not naive enough to believe we couldn't be doing a better job than we are. That fact is, we're doing something about how we feel. In order to better identify out strengths and weaknesses, we have started the wheels of serious self-investigation rolling. In the end, we're going to arrive at a direction to pursue or, as we have chosen to phrase it, arrive at the 'Destiny' of Fort Hays Kansas State College."

Under the direction of President Tomanek and Dr. Harold the direction of that "destiny" was taken at an off-campus retreat last week. Tomanek, Eickhoff and more than two dozen other persons representing the many different college publics (students, faculty, administration, community leaders, and Kansas Board of Regents representatives) met for two days of discussion and arrived at the first in a number of steps toward a final statement of purpose or direction for the college to pursue.

Eickhoff summarized the results of the retreat into written, directive statements and will bring the same group together soon for finalizing the first step. When agreement on those statements is reached, the statements will be open for on and off-campus scrutiny and valued input. Then, it's back to the drawing board for the retreat group.

When agreement is reached following that meeting, the proposal about the destiny of the college will be given to President Tomanek for approval or disapproval. Following the President's approval, the document will be taken to the college's Long Range Planning Committee and the most important purposes or missions will be agreed upon. Then, ways and means of implementing those programs will be initiated.

"We know this constructive effort may take two or three years," Tomanek said. "But we are going to know more about our

Celebrate '76

By MARK ROSS
FHS Sports Information

Today's Homecoming halftime show is entitled "Celebrate 76." The 73-member Fort Hays State Marching Band under the direction of Vic Sisk will perform drills to a variety of numbers associated with the Bicentennial theme.

Featured during the halftime festivities will be solo twirler Janice Robertson from Russell and the Tiger Debs performing to some numbers by John Philip Sousa.

The 1976 drum major for the marching band is Frank Mall from Hays. Keith Hinman serves as the graduate assistant and Dennis Shamber as the band announcer.

Vic Sisk is serving as the director of the Tiger marching band for the first time. Originally from Hutchinson, Sisk follows Lyle Dilley who had served as the marching band director for the past 15 years.

Sisk acknowledged that it would be a difficult task to replace Dilley. However, he explained that Dilley and he work together closely in the preparation of the halftime shows, though each have different jobs. "We have known each other for years and we have many similar ideas."

Sisk received his Bachelor of Music Education and Master of Science degrees from Fort Hays State. He has previously taught in the Phillipsburg, Salina Central, and Salina South public schools. Besides his duties as marching band director, Sisk also teaches music education classes and clarinet at FHS.

In reference to the football season, Sisk said, "Band and football complement each other during the fall. The band adds to the atmosphere and helps to develop the spirit and the pulse of the crowd."

However, Sisk pointed out, the band does not conduct halftime shows purely for the entertainment. "Each halftime show is a learning experience. During this process, the band provides entertainment for the crowd."

To those people who are unfamiliar with the production of a halftime show, there is more work involved than most people realize. To achieve a 10-minute halftime show, there is approximately 40 hours, of preparation. Band members spend 1½ hours, three times weekly preparing for each halftime show plus a Saturday rehearsal. Also, an additional 25 to 30 hours are spent in the developing and planning of each show.

Sisk noted, "This year's marching band has changed to more of a precision type drill unit. Music is selected which is interesting to listen and interesting to play. The band performs company fronts, block busters, pin wheels and circles to traditional, march-type and rock & popular music."

Sisk emphasized, "The marching band program at Fort Hays State is open to anyone with instrumental music background. Any student who participated in band during high school is welcome to tryout."

numbers by George Gershwin and a special marching arrangement of "Bill Bailey." For the conclusion of the halftime program, 350 students from western Kansas high schools will assemble in a mass band formation to perform

Eat 'Em Up Tigers

Tiger Offensive Linemen

By Duane DaPron
FHS Sports Information

When most people talk about a football team's offense, the conversation usually centers around the accomplishments of those individuals who occupy the so-called "glamour" positions — either quarterback, running back or receiver.

But unnoticed by most football enthusiasts is the job done by the offensive lineman. For it is here that all offensive plays originate and in most instances the success or failure of any one play depends upon the efforts made by the men in the "trenches".

Last year the play of the offensive line was an important factor in helping Fort Hays State lead the Great Plains Athletic Conference in total offense. The linemen were also responsible for much of the public acclaim of Tiger tailback Tom Doll, who set a number of school and conference rushing records as well as winning many post-season honors.

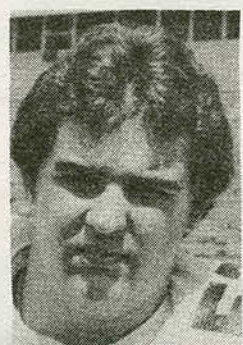

This season the men up front for FHS have picked up right where last year's linemen left off. Through the Tigers' first five games this season, the Bengal offense ranks first in rushing, third in passing and first in total offense. Doll is currently second in the Central States Intercollegiate Conference in rushing, averaging a little over 113 yards per game. These achievements are due, much in part, to the individuals whose work is often taken for granted.

FHS Head Coach Bill Giles feels the offensive linemen are steadily improving week by week.

"Our interior offensive line is coming along real well," Giles says. "Earlier in the season we did have some problems up front, but right now we are much improved and are continuing to look better each week."

When the Tigers come to the line of scrimmage, one will most likely find Great Bend junior John Barnard at center snapping the ball. Giles has been very pleased by Barnard's play this season.

John

"John is doing an excellent job for us," Giles claims.

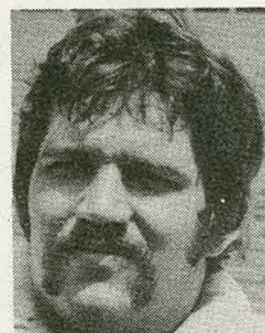

Flanking Barnard at the guard spots are juniors Mike Carlson, from Grant, Neb. and David King from Lubbock, Tex. Carlson was a center for the Tigers last year, but has made the transition to guard without any problem. King has showed progress through each game.

"Mike gives away a lot of size but makes up for it by his quickness off the ball," Coach Giles remarks. "Dave has also been doing a fine job against some bigger opponents. In fact, both were playing against defenders from Missouri Western who were 40-60 pounds heavier than they were and still turned in excellent performances for us," Giles cites.

Robb
Ross

The tackle positions are manned by Atwood senior Robb Ross, a starter from last year's squad, and Ellinwood sophomore Lynn Koch. Phillipsburg senior Ron Matteson has also seen a lot of playing time at tackle.

Concerning Ross, Giles says, "Robb has undoubtedly played his best ball in the last two games against Southern Colorado and Missouri Western."

"Lynn has been a little erratic but for a sophomore he's coming along real fine," Giles remarks. "Ron has been performing very well for the team and has started the last three ball games for us."

The remaining spot on the Tigers' front line, the tight end position, has been shared by Hutchinson junior Dale Suiter, and Ness City senior Chuck Durfee.

Suiter has been one of Tiger quarterback Skip Numrich's favorite targets grabbing nine passes for 93 yards and three TD's. Durfee made a remarkable catch for the winning touchdown against Missouri Western last week.

Giles has nothing but praise for these two. "The coaches have been very pleased with the play of the tight ends thus far," Giles notes. "Both are excellent blockers and both can catch the ball in a crowd."

All of this year's offensive lineman had outstanding careers in high school with many of the players coming to FHS after participating in college ball.

Barnard lettered in football two years at Garden City Juco. A 1972 graduate of Wichita Southeast

High School, he lettered four years in football and wrestling.

Carlson lettered three years in football and track for Perkins County High. King won the most valuable offensive line player as well as all-city and all conference honors while in high school. He was a two-year football letterman for Cowley Community Juco before arriving at Hays.

Ross was a standout performer for Atwood High School. Besides being an all-state defensive tackle selection for the Buffaloes, he was also awarded all-league laurels both as an offensive and defensive tackle.

Koch won all-league honors both ways, too. He was a three-year letterman in football and track for Ellinwood High. For Matteson, this is his fourth year as a Tiger. He is a 1973 graduate from Phillipsburg where he lettered four years in track, three in football and two in track.

Durfee and Suiter both came to the Tigers after playing for Hutchinson Junior College. Durfee lettered in football two years at Hutch before attending Northern Illinois University.

Dale
Suiter

While here he had the dubious distinction of being mentioned in Playboy's Pigskin Preview. A multi-letterman in three sports for Ness City High School, Durfee was an all-state backfield selection his senior year.

Suiter was a two-year football and baseball letterman while at Hutch Juco. He was a member of a state winning baseball team at Hutchinson High School where he lettered in baseball and football three years each.

Theatre Presents Musical Comedy

"A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," the New York musical comedy hit presented at Fort Hays State's Felten-Start Theater tonight is actually based on characters and a plot which has kept audiences laughing for 21 centuries.

The plot of this Roman holiday is a casting of all the time-honored stock situations of farce — mistaken identities, masquerades, loves sweet and profane, the absurdities of an aging man still trying to be a Romeo and the desperate deceptions of a schemer always on the verge of being found out.

Burt Shevelove and Larry Gelbart are the American writers who turned these time-tested shenanigans from old "hokum" into new "hokum." Stephen Sondheim, who provided the lyrics for "West Side Story," managed to insert between the guffaws a tuneful love song, "Lovely," as a duet for the innocent sweethearts, although Mike Maslak, Kansas City, Kan. senior (playing Pseudolus), as the wily slave and his friend Brett Musser, Phillipsburg senior (Hysterium), later convert it into a reprise of howling nonsense.

Others in the cast of leers, muggers and slapstickers are Bill Doll, Goodland senior (Senex), as an amorous old goat; John Keating, Wheaton sophomore (Lycus), as an oily girl-trader with a houseful of delectables ready for the market; and Dave Atchison, Hays freshman (Miles), as a boastful military man with a contract for the delivery of a girl coveted by everyone else.

Peg Kincaid, Ellinwood junior (Philia), portrays this most desirable item in the girl-trader's collection. Gary Earl, Glade senior (Hero), is seen as the romantic young man eager to marry Philia and Nancy Rothe, Bison sophomore (Domina), the nagging wife of the aging Senex. Neil Miller, Chapman senior

Dr. Sue Trauth, assistant professor of speech, directs the musical, and Paula Weber, Bison senior, assists her in the direction of the musical. Susan Carson, Mullinville junior, assists Trauth with the musical's choreography. Dr. Don Stout, professor of music, directs musical numbers in the show.

Sue Christensen, assistant professor speech and new to the FHS theater faculty this fall, designed the scenery representing three adjacent houses facing a street in ancient Rome, and also the colorful assortment of tunics, togas, gowns, wreaths and armor of Romans who appear on the Felten-Start stage.

Skip Numrich - 'Just Glad To Be Here'

By Duane DaPron
FHS Sports Information

The 1976 Fort Hays State football brochure has Skip Numrich's last name spelled "N-u-m-e-r-i-c-k". For most people, having their name misspelled repeatedly by the local media would tend to bother them, especially if they happened to be the number one quarterback for a college football team.

But to Skip Numrich a matter like this seems trivial because for him, the road to the top has been a long one with many detours along the way, and as he readily admits, "I'm just glad to be here."

Numrich's career began much like that of most other college football players. He was superb during his high school playing days for Scott City, even though he played much of the time with a rash of injuries. His senior year, he led the Beavers to a 7-2 record and a high finish in the western Kansas Education Association.

Skip

Skip remembers his high school, "Numrich admits. 'Our team was pass oriented and since I love to throw the football, our offense suited me perfectly.'"

His play was impressive enough to win him all-conference as well as honorable mention all-state honors as a quarterback. But he also doubled on defense as a member of the Beaver secondary.

Numrich's high school injuries slowed him down in many games, however, it wasn't until he began to play at Garden City juco that injuries got the best of him.

As a freshman, Numrich was a defensive back for the Bronco-busters, but was hampered much of the season by a knee injury. Then when he was given his chance at quarterback as a sophomore, his season was ended abruptly by a shoulder separation.

It was at this point in Skip's career that he wanted to give up football. So he transferred to Kansas University as a biochemistry student planning on going to pre-medicine. Football no longer lingered on his mind.

"I just didn't want to play anymore", Skip reflects. "I was ready to quite football and become a full time student."

Numrich attended KU for one year and after being "not too successful" there, he decided to change his major to agriculture and ultimately made the decision to come to FHS.

"I could have gone to Emporia State," Numrich points out, "but I like the city of Hays and its people, so I chose to go to school here.

"In fact," he continues, "I was once recruited by FHS while I was still in high school. Jim Paramore (now the head coach for Southwestern University) who at that time was an assistant under Head Coach Tom Stromgen, came and talked to me about playing for the Tigers. But I chose to go to Garden City instead."

With the results Numrich has produced for the Tigers so far this season, the FHS coaching staff may be wishing that someone had seriously talked to Skip a little sooner.

Included in the Tiger's early success were back-to-back upset wins against Kearney State and Missouri Southern College, the two teams picked in a preseason poll to finish number one and two, respectively, in Central States Intercollegiate Conference.

Numrich thinks these two victories show that the 1976 football team is for real.

"I feel we have a good team," Numrich states. "We work hard in practice and I think we deserve to win. Even after the Alva (Northwestern Oklahoma) loss, the players didn't get down on

A Variety Of German Recipes

BIEROCHS

Use bread dough recipe or 1 box of Hot roll mix. Roll dough thin and cut into squares. Fill with these ingredients.

- 1 lb. hamburger
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 6 cups shredded cabbage
- 1 tsp. salt

Brown meat in 1 tsp. fat, add onion, cabbage, salt and simmer 30 minutes. Cool till lukewarm and fill dough squares and seal. Place on baking sheet, brush with oil and let rise for 1 hour. Bake at 375 degrees for 25 min.

KNOCKWURST

5 lbs. chuck, ground twice
Approximately one third lb. pork sausage, ground twice

Mix above together:

Season with fresh pepper and salt. (Suggested: 1 t. salt to 1 lb. meat and pepper to taste). Mix up well. Put in casing, hang up to dry in a cold place and brush with Wright's Bar-B-Q Smoke about (4) times, let it dry, then brush with more Bar-B-Q smoke sauce until it is dry and it cracks. Wrap and place in refrigerator. This is ready to be eaten immediately. German people generally make this knockwurst at Christmas time. (Note Knockwurst should not be put in a place where it will freeze. After it is cured it needs only to be placed in a cold place.

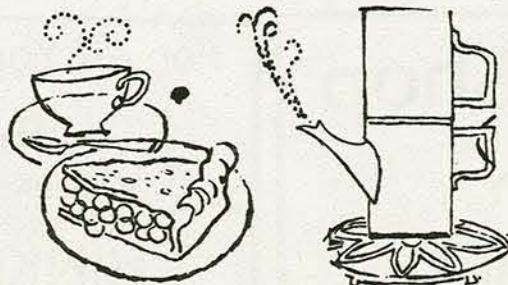

DUTCH APPLE CAKE

- 2 cups flour
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 2 tsp. baking powder
- 4 Tblsp butter or oleo
- two thirds cup milk
- 1 egg, beaten
- 8 to 9 apples, sliced and peeled

Sift dry ingredients, add to butter and mix well. Stir in eggs, milk and apples. Pour into greased 9 x 12 inch cake pan. Topping:

- 1/2 cup butter or oleo, melted
- 3 Tblsp. flour
- 3/4 cup brown sugar
- 1/4 Tblsp. cinnamon
- 1/2 cup chopped nuts

Combine butter, flour, sugar, cinnamon and nuts. Sprinkle over cake batter and bake at 350 degrees for 1 hours.

CABBAGE ROLLS

- 1 1/2 pounds ground beef
- 1 pound ground pork
- 1/2 cup rice
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1 cup chopped sauerkraut
- 1 can tomatoes
- 1 medium size loose leafed cabbage
- 1 small onion, chopped

Cut out the heart of the cabbage head and pour boiling water over cabbage to wilt it. Then the leaves can be easily removed. Trim off heavy heart of leaves and lay aside. Mix together the rice, ground meats, chopped sauerkraut and chopped onion. Moisten with a little water so the mixture can be easily handled. Take a ball of the meat mixture and wrap in a cabbage leaf. Make the rolls long, not short and thick. Place them in a flat pan or roaster then place a layer of cabbage leaves over the top to protect the rolls and keep them from becoming tough. Pour 2 1/2 to 3 cups water over rolls and bake in a 350 degrees oven 1 1/2 hours. Remove top cabbage leaves and pour the can of tomatoes over them. Return to oven and bake at 250 degrees until done.

themselves," he continues, "instead they just worked that much harder".

It was after the opening loss to Alva that the FHS coaches added a new dimension to the Tiger offense — the pro set. For Numrich, the new look couldn't have come any sooner.

As he explains, "With the pro set you have two wide receivers instead of only one as in the Information. This spreads out the Opponent's defense and makes them cover more ground. It also leaves seams in the defense for the receivers to run to".

And with sure-handed receivers like Dave Meter, (who Numrich claims "can beat anybody man-to-man") Terry Georgeson, Dale Suiter and Chuck Durfee, grabbing his passes it tends to make Skip's job that much easier.

The pro set has taken a lot of pressure off Numrich when he goes back to pass and has allowed him to cut down on his interceptions. This can be evidenced by the fact that after tossing four interceptions against Northwestern Okla., Numrich has been intercepted only twice in the last four games.

Numrich knew that he had a big pair of shoes to fill this season after Greg Custer, the Tigers' starting quarterback in 1975 didn't return this season. But Skip had no doubts about being FHS's top signal caller this fall.

"I really thought last spring that I would be the Tigers' starting quarterback this fall, if the coaches would just give me a fair chance," he admits. "There was stiff competition from the other quarterback prospects all through spring and pre-season drills, but I knew that I could do the job."

It is this optimism and positive attitude that has helped Numrich overcome the hardships and challenges which many people would have given in to. But Numrich has had no second thoughts about the way his career has fared up to now.

"I have no regrets about the way things have happened for me", he notes. "I've had my share of misfortunes, but really I'm just satisfied to be healthy and able to play for the Tigers."

"I really enjoy life here in Hays. I'm just glad to be here."

faculty, students, the direction we want the college to go, what our strengths are, and, we are going to define the destiny of this outstanding western Kansas institution. We will know that when major changes take place on our campus in the future, they will do so out of design, not by accident. We're going to work hard in the near future on the destiny of this college and, in the end, reap the benefits."

Tiger Pep Squad

By Diane Gasper
FHS Sports Information

Have you ever heard of a college with fifteen men's and women's inter-collegiate sports and no cheerleaders? Fort Hays State is, in a way, one such college. Starting the 1976 school year, sporting new outfits and a new name are the eight pep squad members providing spirit and leading the fans in cheerleading for the Tigers of FHS.

Selected in the spring of 1976, the pep squad is now financed by the pep squad is now financed by the Fort Hays State Athletic Lon Pishny, FHS Sports Information Director.

It was decided to change the original name of "cheerleaders" (who were sponsored and financed by the Student Senate) to "pep squad" and add three more members. The pep squad was chosen last April by a committee of five judges (two students, one faculty member, and the wives of two Tiger Club members). Each person trying out was required to do one cheer individually, and a pom pom routine and a series of kicks in pairs. They were judged on coordination, enthusiasm, voice projection, and appearance. The two people with the most points were appointed co-captains of the squad.

Two groups of four are to travel (on alternating trips) with the football and basketball teams, but because of the enthusiasm of the entire squad, the members started a "Fighting Tigers" button selling campaign to earn money enough to send all eight to as many away games as possible.

Co-captains Carmel Thompson, Douglas, Wyo. junior and Rose Neumann, Hanston sophomore, explain that the squad's main goal is to create more pep and spirit and to get the fans more involved. Their responsibilities include both cheerleading and pom pom routines. Helping with the routines for the pep squad is Marilyn Brightman, FHS dance instructor. They practice every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon and are presently working on new routines for the basketball season.

Fort Hays State's outstanding senior athlete each year is honored during the homecoming festivities the following fall with the Busch Gross Award. The award is named after the late Paul "Busch" Gross, longtime FHS basketball coach and athletic director.

The Busch Gross Award is the highest honor a Tiger athlete can earn. The late Paul Gross devoted his life to serving FHS. He was a Tiger athlete from 1917 to 1920; basketball coach from 1930 to 1946; and athletic director from 1930 until his death in 1964. He was named to the NAIA Hall of Fame in 1957 for noteworthy achievement in basketball.

A selection committee annually chooses the Gross Award recipient on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character and athletic achievement. All senior athletes at FHS from preceding year are eligible for the award.

The 1975 winner was Keith Harper, a four-year letterman in baseball and basketball. A native of Colby, Harper graduated with a B.S. in physical education. His overall gradepoint average was 3.00 and he was an honor athlete for four semesters.

Previous winners of the award include: Steve Crosby, football, 1974; John Woodworth, football and basketball, 1973; Dave Okeson, basketball, 1972; Mike Estes, track, 1971; Leneal Locke, basketball, 1970; Paul Simmons, football and baseball, 1969; Fred Andregg, basketball, 1968; Bob Johnson, football and track, 1967; Don Lakin, track and cross country, 1966; Clark Engle, football and track, 1965; Sam McDowell, basketball, 1964; Herb Stange, basketball, 1963; Dean Larson, basketball and Kent Bauer, track, duplicate awards in 1962; Lyle Wingate, track and basketball, 1961; Darrell Hilderbrand, track and football, 1960; Gary Casey, basketball and track, 1959; Dan Johnson, football and track, 1958; and the first recipient, Ron Miller, football, 1957.

The pep squad, having already engaged in many activities this year, started off the 1976 football season festivities by sponsoring a watermelon feed Wednesday, Sept. 8 for the football players and led the cheers at a pep rally the following evening in the Mall to kick off the first home game.

The football team was rewarded by the pep squad after the 27-21 upset of Central States Intercollegiate Conference pre-season favorite Kearney State at Kearney the following week by the passing out of cookies to the players for the return bus home.

Just one week later on Parent's Day, there were the eight squad members out throwing candy up into the stands for every Tiger touchdown scored and cheering the team on to another upset over Missouri Southern at Lewis Field.

In addition to providing spirit and leading the crowd in cheering the Tigers on through victory and defeat, the pep squad has added a little more spirit to the football team by decorating their lockerroom with posters for every game and making a half-time run-through hoop for all home games.

The pep squad started the kick-off for the homecoming festivities yesterday afternoon, leading the snake dance around the dorms, through town, and back to campus for the tug-of-war and the crowning of the homecoming queen, and also took part in the homecoming parade earlier this morning.

So — here, on Homecoming Day 1976, let's give the new pep squad of '76 some help in cheering the Tigers of Fort Hays State on to victory over the Northern Colorado Bears.
